MSA GENERAL CIRCULAR 1/2014

Competitors in four-wheeled forms of motorsport (excluding karting) are hereby reminded that race suits made of synthetic materials (such as Nylon, Polyester and untreated Cordura) are not fire-retardant and therefore not suitable for car racing applications.

Karting race suits are only suitable for karting applications and are not suitable for car racing or any other form of motorsport where a fire retardant race suit is required. Race suits which refer to the CIK-FIA karting standard (usually on the collar) are similarly not suitable, as this approval is karting specific and has no relevance whatsoever to the FIA standards for fire retardant race suits.

Race officials are empowered to reject unsuitable race suits at scrutineering or at any other time during an event. They shall also be empowered to temporarily impound unsuitable race suits for the duration of an event, to prevent their use during the event in question. In such circumstances, the impounded race suit must be returned to the competitor no later than the finish of the event.
